What is Erasmus training mobility?

The promotion and implementation of mobility is a key priority in the field of European higher education. The mobility of students (studies and internships) and teaching staff, as well as all university staff in higher education establishments (training periods) is crucial to creating the European higher education area.

"ERASMUS STAFF TRAINING MOBILITY (STT)"

This mobility is available to all staff in a higher education establishment (teaching, administrative and technical staff, etc.). It enables them to carry out between one and six weeks of training in an institution, company or training organisation in another European country. Mobility consists of one to six weeks in a company or higher education establishment in another European country.

You wish to come to UCA in the framework of the Erasmus mobility scheme

You must first approach your home university to find out the contractual and financial terms of your mobility, which may be covered under STT mobility or Erasmus Staff Training Mobility.

Next, you must contact the Department of International Relations so it can put you in touch with staff willing to host you in the framework of your training mobility.
