EURAXESS AUVERGNE SERVICES CENTRE

The EURAXESS Auvergne Services Centre (CSEA) helps foreign researchers posted in Auvergne, as well as the departments hosting them, to carry out the necessary formalities in connection with their arrival and stay in France.
The CSEA is the regional branch of the EURAXESS network set up by the European Commission to promote researcher mobility within the European Research Area.

This service forms part of the Department of International Relations of the University of Clermont Auvergne and serves as the primary point of contact for administrative formalities in connection with the hosting of foreign researchers.

ROLE OF THE CSEA

Provide information and tailored assistance to researchers and their families prior to their arrival in Auvergne, during their stay and after their departure; serve as central point of contact for researchers requiring practical information and support.
